

A New Time

February 6, 2021

In a vision, I saw snow falling and accumulating. I heard the Lord saying, “It’s the last days. Deception is far and wide – coming even greater (like the accumulation of the snow). People will be out in it, not even knowing. They will act like it’s nothing, going about their days while the snow falls around them – doing nothing because they see nothing. They will do nothing because they see nothing. Complacency fills the land like never before. Be aware, be sure of who you are. Witches abound in sheep’s clothing.

There shall be a settling across the land of all that I’ve taught and trained My people for. It’s coming, the likes you’ve never seen or even thought about. It’s coming, disaster, destruction across the land. But you can be strong knowing whose you are, who you belong to. You are Mine. Mountains of My strength abound in the lives of My people. They are everywhere. Look for them and pay attention. They have something you don’t: Solace in the time of need. Depend on them, learn from them, My mountains of strength.

I’m ushering in a New Time, a time of strength for My people. Hold on, hold on tight. It’s coming for all to see. Draining of all things that are not like Me that hinder, is coming across the land to all those that see the future for what it is, a time of hope, of destiny coming for My people. Hold on, it’s coming. Preserve, I’ll preserve the lives of My people for such a time as this. Hope, you can hope now. Peace, you can rest now, for this is the time of glory, of power for My people. Receive it in the name of Jesus, My son, My exalted One. You who wait for a New Time, it’s here.
