

My Creative Hand is Moving

February 21, 2021

I saw a green leaf/vine in a cluster. I then saw a deep trench and in it were two soldiers fighting in a war together. I then saw a large hand as if it we're putting a stamp on a person and it was God who was doing the stamping. His hand was illuminated and full of light.

The Lord says that "He is going to pull away things in our lives that don't belong. He's going to pull away hindrances and indifferences, if we'll yield to Him. Some of these hindrances have affected our love walk with one another. Ignoring my leading will promote stumbling blocks instead of promoting my love. My love can grow in you. Have not I commanded thee to love one another? I am going to create ways for you to make things right with one another for I have not caused you to serve alone", says the Lord. "There will be no way out except to serve each other. Iron sharpens iron. I desire you to have one another's backs. This is not just as individuals, but I also desire this with other corporate bodies who are after my heart. Behold, how beautiful it is for brethren to dwell together in unity! This will strengthen your positions in battle, this moves my heart and this will move my hand in a creative way. Will you move with me? As you surrender and yield to me, you will remain in me and be hidden in my love for my love covers. This will create more room for me to move greater in your lives. Will you be a reflection of me towards one another? My creative hand is moving on hearts who want all of me. Holiness is immanent. My creative hand is shining forth on my sons and daughters who want to be a reflection of me in the earth. Who are you reflecting in the earth? Set aside indifferences, I know the end from the beginning and everything in between. Trust me and allow me to heal you more, there's always room for more, for I am coming back for a pure and spotless bride.
