

Receiving from the Prophet's Ministry

February 2, 2021

This morning I saw a ship sailing. It was close to the shore. Suddenly it stopped and there was a young man running to catch up with it. Then others came running to get on the ship. The Lord said, "Those are My prophets, waiting, and running to catch up. They've been in isolation, in seclusion, for a long time. It's time – come out of darkness – come into the light now.

Get ready, you'll see them coming from far and wide.

Receive from the prophet's ministry. It is crucial during this hour. There's something different about what they carry. Humble yourselves and receive what thus saith the Lord. A prophet is a marksman in the spirit realm, able to pinpoint from long distances the target. Ready yourselves – there's no use in being jealous or taking offense – look to them. They are My mouthpiece. But be careful of wolves in sheep's clothing – they abound. Deception is rampant, far and wide. They are really witches in sheep's clothing, full of divination and sorcery.

How do you know there is a true prophet? They are seasoned, tried and true and under a covering. They are not wild, running their own game, their own show. They submit to the authority I've established and set forth. Prophets come forth out of agony, out of birthing. It takes a process to birth My prophet – years of training, refining, submitting, learning, waiting to come forth, My instruction, waiting.

Is everyone a prophet? No, some just want to be. That is reserved for My chosen few. Holiness adorns them, My faithfulness surrounds them like a shield. My faithfulness abounds in the life of a prophet. It is evident, sure, tried, true, respected. Allow My prophetic ministry to minister to you – My chosen few, tried and true.
